Vastu checklist for peace at home

Use this when the home feels tense and you want to see what Vastu reads first: the south-west corner, the centre and the entrance.

- [ ] 1. South-west corner intact
  Not cut or missing. Our rules grade a cut or missing south-west corner a major defect.
- [ ] 2. Room in the south-west
  A master bedroom here is Ideal. A toilet or kitchen here is a major defect.
- [ ] 3. Couple's bedroom direction
  North-east and south-east are both Problematic. Both have remedies in our rules.
- [ ] 4. Centre of the home open
  A living room, foyer, passage or courtyard at the centre is Ideal, kept open and well-lit.
- [ ] 5. Toilet, kitchen or staircase at the centre
  Problematic and a major defect. Check whether the centre point falls inside one of these rooms.
- [ ] 6. Wall or pillar through the centre
  A major defect, which our rules treat as remediable without structural change.
- [ ] 7. Main door direction
  A main door in the south-west is a Critical defect. A door in the south depends on its pada.
- [ ] 8. Door opens inward
  It should open inward, be solid wood and be the largest door in the house.
- [ ] 9. Door creaks or has cracks
  Oil or repair it. A creaking door is believed to invite negativity.
- [ ] 10. Entrance lit and clear
  Keep it well-lit. No shoe rack directly in front of the door, no mirror facing it, no dustbin in view.
